

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT IN SMASH ON BROADWAY

Car Crashes Full Speed Into Wagon and Hurls Occupants to Street.

One man was instantly killed, a second mortally injured, and two others badly hurt at 4 A. M. to-day when a trolley car smashed against a wagon at Broadway and Fourth street.

The Dead:
Fuchs, Peter, fifty-three years old, of No. 603 East Fourteenth street.

The Injured:
Fuchs, Max, nineteen, son of Peter; left arm cut off and internal injuries.
Glantz, Max, twenty-six, of No. 230 East Third street, cuts and bruises about the body.

The Dead:
Aronowitz, Simon, twenty-five, of No. 215 East Third street; back bruised and cuts about the head.

Peter Fuchs was a peddler and had a small green grocery under his home. His son, Glantz and Aronowitz were in this employ. The four started for the market this morning for a load of vegetables, and were driving through Fourth street, going west. Fuchs and his son were on the front seat. Just as the wagon got on the tracks a trolley car run by Motorman John Varley and in charge of Conductor Emil Fiedler came whizzing north. The car struck the wagon full force and hurled it against the curb. The four men were thrown out. The elder Fuchs was killed instantly, his son had his arm crushed by the car and the others were made unconscious.

The horse was knocked down, but scrambled to his feet and, breaking from the harness, ran down Fourth street to West Broadway, where a policeman caught him.

Policeman Beantillon, of the Macdougal street station, formed a tourniquet with his night stick and a string and prevented young Fuchs from bleeding to death. An ambulance took him to St. Vincent's Hospital, where it was said he would die. Glantz and Aronowitz went to their home. Varley was arrested on a charge of homicide and the conductor was held as a witness.

CERTAIN SURE.

"Only fools are certain, Tommy; wise men hesitate."
"Are you sure, uncle?"
"Yes, my boy; certain of it."—The Tailor.

LODGE GOES ABROAD TO FORGET POLITICS

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, who says he is tired almost to death from the exertion of preventing the recent Republican Convention in Chicago from nominating President Roosevelt for a third term, sailed with Mrs. Lodge on the Oceanic to-day to be gone two months.

"Don't bother me about politics, please," he said to the reporters. "I've had enough to last me for some time and I am anxious to forget the subject for a while at least."

The Senator was chairman of the convention and is unofficially known as the "mouthpiece of the Administration." He was asked if, in the event of a Republican victory in November, "My Policies" would continue to prevail, but his answer proved that for the present, at least, the "mouthpiece" has a plug in it.

"Wait and see, wait and see," was all he would say.
"Will you return in time to take an active part in the campaign?"
"Oh, I always make a few little speeches," he replied, "and I'll be absent only a couple of months."
Senator Lodge with some heat refused to say whether he thought the recent scandals concerning contributions to the campaign would curtail those donations and therefore bring about a decrease in the Republican vote.
